

The Daily Universe

Brigham Young University

374-1211 Ext. 2957

Provo, Utah

Vol. 27 No. 137

Wednesday, April 3, 1974

Students
someet bishops and stake presidents met between their meeting schedule invited to attend the BYU "Bishop's and President's Day" on annual event gives the students a chance to meet and students from their

are attending BYU.
You can find their local officials at designated places on campus at Lyon, an assistant to ector of university said a list of meeting will be available day. The list is in Thursday's and their local leaders may meet and t together if they like.

A discussion involving Oaks and other officials is scheduled for ors from 1:30 to 2:30 in the University Theater, to Lyon.

open house will then be from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in Wilkinson Center
Lyon added.

ould be for those who their bishops and presidents in the campus. There will also be vement by student during this part of

also explained that and state presidents not respond in time included on the list
ad. Lyon said, "It will end at the Wilkinson Step Down Lounge."

he presidents from the Illinois areas they would be dade." Lyon said. "It ended with several
I will visit the campus way."

afternoon about ake presidents and that they would be in dade Thursday,
ing to Lyon's office.

I also said that the of writing had been pretty reinced due to lack of from parents. Lyon
oted this lack of interest to the energy problem problems it has caused avel.

Cup project is delayed in U.S. District Court

By LISA WATTS
University Staff Writer

The Central Utah Project, a multimillion-dollar project that would transport fresh water to the Central Utah area, was delayed again in Utah's U.S. District Court.

Chief Judge Willis Ritter ended this second session of hearings by calling for an April 18 continuation of the debate over environmental impact of the project, according to U.S.
Attorney Nelson Day.

The court action filed by the Sierra Club and other environmental groups seeks to stop work on the Bonneville Unit of the CUP and alleges the environmental impact statement presented by the Bureau of Reclamation and the Department of the Interior is insufficient under the law to warrant proceeding, explained Day.

But Judge Ritter declined to enter any temporary restraining order or injunction upon the assurance by the court,

defendants, Interior Secretary
Rogers Morton and four other Bureau of Reclamation officials, and the interveners, including the Sierra Club and others that the opening of bids for the Current Creek was delayed to April 16-23, Day added.

Ritter directed Professor William Lockhart of the University of Utah Law School to "use his best efforts to obtain counsel for the discrete Ute and Ritter also permitted the Ute tribe to appear as a friend of the court," said Day.

Lockhart testified Monday that the Ute Tribal Council and the Bureau of Reclamation agreed in 1965 to defer development of 60,000 acre-feet of tribal water rights until the year 2,005.

The Sierra Club and friends were represented Tuesday by Curtis Olson, James L. Ruckel and H. Anthony Ruckel of Denver, according to Day. They sought to support Monday's testimony.

Monday Dr. David Raskin, vice chairman of the Sierra Club and the Chapter of the Sierra Club from France, was held in Paris and will take foreign affairs. The Pathet Lao will also appoint the head of the Joint National Political Council which will recommend policy to the cabinet.

Another witness Monday for the Sierra Club was Dr. Stephen Seiner, a university assistant professor of economics. He testified that the environmental impact statement by the Bureau of Reclamation neglects to calculate the recreational values that would be lost or gained by the project in terms of dollars.

He called such people
"make-sense people" and remarked, "I don't like to be with some people I have read about to illustrate his negative feelings about people who want to know the reasons for everything he does."

He said "make sense education" like the style of creativity and imagination of school children.

Had said third graders were much smarter than adults in understanding his poetry. He told of an experience he had reading and discussing a poem
book.

The newspaper said it had received the communiqué wrapped in a dozen long-stemmed roses, which were delivered by a florist.

In some of his public appearances he has appeared tired and bloated.

Recently he traveled to the Soviet Union to confer with Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev, but in the

there had been speculation about possible new presidential elections during past months.

Georges Pompidou, French
president dies at age 62.

last few hours, the president had been acting poorly.

Pompidou had been plagued illness and there had been speculation about his possible death.

the brief announcement
the presidential palace
Pompidou died at 9 p.m., EDT.

a few hours earlier, the sident's office said pidou was canceling all public appearances because of an illness.

cause of death was not mediately disclosed, but e had been reports of ous ailments, including cancer.

Pompidou became president France on June 15, 1969, ating Alain Poher, but in the

Georges Pompidou, French
president dies at age 62.

last few weeks he canceled a scheduled spring trip to Japan
and put off a planned trip to Bonn to confer with the West
German chancellor, Willy Brandt.

Pompidou returned at his country
house near Paris.

There had been speculation
about possible new presidential elections during
past months.

He had been acting poorly.

last few hours he canceled a scheduled spring trip to Japan
and put off a planned trip to Bonn to confer with the West
German chancellor, Willy Brandt.

Pompidou returned at his country
house near Paris.

There had been speculation
about possible new presidential elections during
past months.

Provo landmark

BYU may sell lower campus

By LARRY M. JENSON
University Staff Writer

Lower campus may be sold by BYU.
BYU is examining alternatives from businesses and land developers to the possible sale of the land and buildings of lower campus on University Avenue between 500 and 600 North.

"We are only in the feeder stage now," said BYU Exec. Vice Pres. Ben E. Lewis.
"After we hear proposals from interested individuals, a final decision will be made by the university through the proper channels as to how the property will be disposed."

"To date we have received no proposals, only inquiries," said Lewis.
"BYU is interested in having the land and buildings used for a beneficial purpose to the community," said Bruce L. Olsen, director of the school's desire to have

Old education building has served school for several decades.

the buildings preserved if possible.
According to Olsen, "Studies have shown that buildings as they no longer serve a sound functional use for the university."

An effort to remodel and functionally update the buildings would be too costly, said Lewis, indicating the buildings have served a most useful purpose over long years and are still physically substantial for continued use.

Olsen indicated, however, in the event of a sale, the new owners would be free to demolish the buildings if they chose to do so.

The possible sale cannot take place immediately inasmuch as the buildings will need to continue to be used until replacement facilities can be provided on upper campus, said Olsen.

In a written statement, Lewis has indicated to potential developers "the properties are strategically located and should prove excellent opportunity for development by interested parties." Interested parties may obtain additional information from Lewis.

The lower campus area under consideration includes the four buildings on the block: The Arts Building, Training Building, Educational Building and College Hall.

The Industrial Arts Building south of the block and the Women's Gymnasium across University Avenue on the west are also being considered for sale with the principal block.

The lower campus housed the B.Y.
Academy in 1892 after its initial construction was completed. Later, the name was changed to Brigham Young University.

When most of the campus was transferred to upper campus, then known as Temple Hill, the buildings were used for an elementary and secondary school.
The old B.Y. High School ceased operations in 1968.

Nursery school classes, special education classes and some other university classes are presently held in the buildings.

The lower campus has also provided recreational facilities for missionaries residing in the Language Training Mission.

The Industrial Arts department uses lower campus for its design program.

Haines confident signatures will exceed required number

Council to hear Ryan, Haines

Today the Executive Council will hear a proposal from Lynn Ryan, BYU student, who lost a close friend in the Provo River last year, concerning ASBYU placing more signs on the river.

The meeting, which will be held in 387 ELWC at 5 p.m., will also hear from Keith Haines.

Haines said he would spend Tuesday night "canvassing apartments to get at least 300 signatures over the required number." He was planning on obtaining the extra signatures so that "if we have to file to block the petition in court, they can, and we'll be safe."

If the signatures are obtained Tuesday night then the constitutional proposal will be voted on before the students for a vote at the last two days of the semester, April 17 and 18, said Haines.

The printing costs of the petition which appears on page 5 of today's Daily Universe will be paid by the executive council if Haines obtains the required number.
Tuesday night "we must have all the signatures before it was printed, said Haines or the council will not pay for it and he will have to pay for it himself."

"We will then publicize it as much as possible so people are aware of it," said Haines.

Poet says 'show feelings'

By MAX CROPPER
University Staff Writer

People who keep their feelings inside without expressing them are the ones who get sick, said John Ciardi in Tuesday's turn-around assembly.

An older Gentleman, an "Written Poem" was the title of Ciardi's talk. He suggested people prevent problems with inner pressures by expressing their true feelings through poetry or other ways.

Ciardi, senior editor of "Saturday Review of Literature," pointed out that people who have to have a good reason to explain everything that is done,
"suffer from atrophy of imagination."

He called such people
"make-sense people" and remarked, "I don't like to be with some people I have read
about to illustrate his negative
feelings about people who want
to know the reasons for everything he does."

He said "make sense
education" like the style of
creativity and imagination of
school children.

Had said third graders were much smarter than adults in understanding his poetry. He told of an experience he had reading and discussing a poem
book.

John Ciardi told students that poetry is a good way of relieving inner pressures and expressing feelings.

with both third graders and seniors in high school. The third graders understood much better the seniors.

Ciardi said that the school system may be responsible for the apathy students acquire towards poetry.

He told of an educator that questioned the reasoning behind some of his children's poetry in a children's text book.

He suggested students meet more people than you can possibly meet in your lifetime through books.

With a wider range of experience, students can have more opportunities for friendships with minds a person has a bigger storehouse in the mind to confront new experiences, said Ciardi.

Heiress may be freed by SLA

By GREGORY A. GROSS
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The exact time and place of Patricia Hearst's release will be disclosed within 72 hours, a communication spokesman of the People's Liberation Army said Tuesday.

The communiqué was received Tuesday by a Phoenix, Ariz., underground newspaper, the Phoenix. Also enclosed was what looked like half of the kidnapper's driver's license. The newspaper said it had confirmed the authenticity of the kidnapper's driver's license. The newspaper said it had confirmed the authenticity of the kidnapper's driver's license.

The newspaper said it had received the communiqué wrapped in a dozen long-stemmed roses,
which were delivered by a florist.

Patricia Hearst, 19, was kidnapped May 15
by members of the SLA, a radical Marxist group
led by George Jackson, a Black Panther Party member.

Her captors have demanded $5 million for her release.

Patricia Hearst has been held since May 15
by members of the SLA, a radical Marxist group
led by George Jackson, a Black Panther Party member.

Her captors have demanded $5 million for her release.

Patricia Hearst has been held since May 15
by members of the SLA, a radical Marxist group
led by George Jackson, a Black Panther Party member.

Her captors have demanded $5 million for her release.

There was no way to confirm that the communiqué was authentic, but it followed the pattern and style of previous communications which authorities have accepted as coming from the SLA.

John Bryan, Hearst's attorney, concluded: "Further communications regarding subject will follow in the coming 72 hours, communications will state the state, city and time of release of the prisoner."

It demanded that the "Codes of War" of the SLA, which were enclosed, be printed by Phoenix media.

The communiqué was addressed to Phoenix editor
John Bryan and signed, "I.L. Unit 4, Gen. Field Marshal CinC, SLA."

The SLA has claimed responsibility for kidnapping the 20-year-old newspaper heiress Feb. 4. It has previously referred to Miss Hearst as a "prisoner."

Her previous communications have carried the signature of Gen. Field Marshal CinC, or General Field Marshal CinC.

The driver's license enclosed in the communiqué was cut diagonally in half. Part of Miss Hearst's signature and part of her photograph were visible. A Hearst family spokesman said he had been told on Tuesday that the signature on the license was the signature of the kidnapper's driver's license.

Earlier Tuesday, the Hearst Corp. said its $4-million offer of free food for the poor will be withdrawn if Miss Hearst is not released within one month. The corporation said it had placed the money in escrow Tuesday, and that it would be released for a food program if Miss Hearst were released unharmed before May 3.

"This is not a threat, simply a term of the escrow," said Randolph A. Hearst, the girl's father. "We could make it ready to go at any time, but we want our daughter back sooner. This gives the SLA 30 days to make up its mind. All they have to say is yes or no."

Referring to the Phoenix development, Charles Bates, FBI agent in charge of the case, said, "We don't know anything about it. We have heard nothing..."

Dateline

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stabbings from fight, police say

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith will never be like this.

Utah senator criticizes AMA

WASHINGTON — The American Medical Association and some of its state and local affiliates are applying for funds under a federal program they are trying to have repealed, Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said Tuesday.

The program, enacted by the 92nd Congress under Bennett's sponsorship, calls for local organizations to review the medical necessity and quality of care provided under Medicare and Medicaid.

Trial of former Nixon aide starts

WASHINGTON — The special Watergate prosecutor's office is starting its attempt to convince a jury of seven men and five women that former White House aide Dwight L. Chapin lied under oath to a grand jury. Chapin, 33, is accused in four counts of giving false information to a grand jury about his relations with convicted Watergate saboteur Donald G. Scott. A selection of the jury at the U.S. District Court required less than four hours. Most of that time was spent by the judge in questioning some 120 prospective jurors about their ability to be objective.

Jane Fonda going to Vietnam

MOSCOW — Antiwar actress Jane Fonda is in Moscow and is on her way to make a film in Vietnam. A spokesman for the Vietnam Peace Campaign said Miss Fonda plans to visit North Vietnam and "liberated areas of South Vietnam." She was invited by a group affiliated with the Provisional Revolutionary Government of Vietnam, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

The film will be about life in South Vietnam. The spokesman said it may include interviews with former prisoners in South Vietnamese jails.

U president defends appointment

SALT LAKE CITY — University of Utah President David P. Gardner says he didn't violate any federal employment requirements when he acted quickly to name Jerry Pimm as new head basketball coach.

Gardner named Pimm late last week shortly after the resignation of Bill Foster. Gardner said his naming Pimm did not conflict with a U.S. government program requiring public advertising for such a job.

FCC hears concerns of news cost

WASHINGTON — The Federal Communications Commission today considered arguments that new leased line telephone rates proposed by the Bell System would make news services too costly for many small-city newspapers and radio stations.

New park by spring

A new half million dollar recreation center at Utah Lake State Park should be completed by early spring of next year, according to parks and Recreation personnel.

A bid has been approved and a pre-construction meeting is scheduled. Construction could begin within three weeks, according to a park spokesman.

Remodeling of the old boat clubhouse and an addition on that building are planned in the new year, according to park officials.

A tent-covered 130 foot by 230 foot concrete slab will be attached to the clubhouse. It will be large enough for volleyball, shuffleboard, dancing and a number of other activities in the summer.

The slab will be used for ice skating during the winter.

Also to be included in the park are a new concession stand, a park management office, public rest rooms, a small group use or meeting room, mechanical rooms for freezing equipment, and a harbor observation tower.

These additions are part of a long-range development plan for the park, Weaver said.

The new park, to be drawn in 1972, includes additional picnic facilities, an extended fishing jetty, and a restaurant.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

In 1955, Wherry Ford of the Yankees pitched five shutouts. Two of them were one-hitters in succession and two were two-hit games.

Smith Cousins plan gathering

Descendants of the Jesse N. Smith family, including the LDS General Conference, will be guests of the Smith Cousins Club Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in 321 ELWC.

According to Dave Snell, of the Union Block, Columbia Graftonola closed shop last November and the new store, the Union Block Record Shop, opened November 28.

Ford pitched five

Campus briefs

Canada custom information in booklet

Canadian students who will be returning to Canada for the summer may obtain from a booklet which contains custom regulations and general information about what they can take past the Canadian-American border, according to the Foreign Students Association. Students should check at 235 ASB.

Pre-dental Society has banquet

BYU's Pre-dental Society will have a lecture and a banquet Saturday, April 12. Dr. James, chairman of the Department of Endodontics at the University of Nebraska Dental School will address members at 5:30 p.m. in 321 ELWC. Dr. James is also a member of the pre-dental admissions committee.

The Pre-dental Society banquet will be at 7 p.m. New officers will be elected and special awards will be given.

Reception to honor Dean Hartvigsen

A reception honoring Milton F. Hartvigsen, dean of the College of Physical Education who is retiring, will be held April 8.

The reception, sponsored by the College of Physical Education, will take place in the ELWC Skyroom from 4 to 6 p.m. according to the dean's secretary, Mrs. Clara Holley. It was reported earlier that this reception would be held April 12.

Milton Hartvigsen, who has been at BYU since 1956, was named BYU Professor of the Year in 1963, and was awarded the Messer Award for Teaching Excellence in 1973.

Mexican-American coalition formed

A Mexican-American Student Coalition, organized last Saturday, will hold a follow-up meeting Saturday at 4 p.m. in room 562 of the ELWC. According to George Rodriguez, from San Antonio, Tex., a junior in history and president of the coalition, 30 of the 167 Mexican-American students on the BYU Campus attended Saturday's meeting. Students with Spanish surnames were invited to attend the meeting.

Psychologist to speak today

Psychoanalytic therapy will be the subject of discussion for a psychology colloquium lecture today.

Dr. Bruce Sloane, chairman of the Psychiatry Department at the University of Southern California School of Medicine will speak on "Psychoanalytic Therapy versus Behavioral Therapy," at 12:30 p.m. in 321 ELWC. Dr. Allen Barron, professor of psychology and director of the colloquium series, Dr. Sloane will be reporting on his work comparing Psychoanalysis and behavior therapy which is one of the most important done to date.

Technology will be lecture topic

"Technology Is for People" is this month's topic for the Engineering Sciences and Technology lecture series at 7 p.m.

Robert Swanson, chancellor at the University of Wisconsin-Stout in Menomonie, Wis., will discuss the topic Thursday at 10 a.m. in the de Jong Concert Hall of the Harris Fine Arts Center. The public is welcome and admission is free. Dr. Swanson is an educator, author and inventor who has applied his life to the technical arts.

PURSE - OR - POCKET UNIT

TEAR GAS

AEROSOL CHEMICAL DEFENSE WEAPON

- Twice the strength of most competitive aerosol devices.
- Legal to carry, no license required.
- Fast, simple, easy to use.
- No marksmanship necessary. Fires a shotgun pattern.
- Can be used many times. Fires a multitude of blasts up to ten feet.
- Instantly disables one or a gang of attackers for ten to fifteen minutes.
- Safe to use, will not effect user.

ONLY
$4.95

Kuhlmann Dist. Co.

346 N. Bluff

St. George, Utah 84770

Please send me _____ Paralyzer(s). Enclosed is my check or money order for $4.95 plus $.22 state tax - total $5.17.

Name _____ Age _____

Address _____ State _____ Zip _____

Universe photo by Rolf Koecher

Art can be a meaningful experience for the blind as Garry Phillips proves. He works here on a wood project.

Blindness little obstacle in art

By NORMAN HANEY
University Staff Writer

Nine years ago Gary L. Phillips, then an art supervisor in accounting in South Dakota, was driving home from an automobile accident.

Today Phillips, still legally blind, is a BYU graduate student who will be receiving a Master of Arts in April.

For one year after the accident Phillips remained totally blind. After a blessing by Elder Howard W. Hunter who was visiting the area Phillips and he slowly recovered a little of his sight back. Part of the blessing included a promise that with faith and great effort, he could come to receive a master's degree in the field of his choice, said Kathleen Phillips, his wife.

Phillips is legally blind on two counts. One eye sees only light and the other eye 20/200. Sight through the one eye is like looking through a straw as his peripheral vision is very limited. Yet Phillips has taken every kind of art, he says, and received almost straight A's.

Called to BYU after accident
After his accident Phillips came to BYU to work on a bachelors degree which he received in 1968.

"I could not see then as much as I can see now," said Phillips.

He then taught in Heber, Utah for one year.

"I have spent thirty of my 37 years either going to school or teaching," Phillips said.

He left Heber to go to Oregon to live but no one would employ him. He attended school there but was discouraged with it. "I have never found professors as good as at BYU," said Phillips.

Church film to be shown

"Brigham Young—the Wizard Prophet," the video production of the early history of the saints, will be shown on KBRY-TV, Tuesday, April 9 at 9 p.m.

The production is a television adaptation of a poem by Pres. S. Dilworth Young of the First Council of the Seventy and Dr. Charles Metten of the BYU Drama Department.

The music, which includes some traditional Mormon hymns, has been composed and arranged by student Dennis R. Byington is cast as Brigham Young.

LAST LECTURE SERIES

Presents

TERRY CRAPO

He will speak on:

"A Lawyer Looks at the Law of the Gospel!"

WHERE: MEMORIAL LOUNGE

WHEN: THURSDAY, APRIL 4

TIME: 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by ASBYU Academics

VETERANS

Keep A Good Thing Going

With

The U.S. Army ROTC Two Year Program

APPLICATIONS NOW BEING ACCEPTED

EARN A COMMISSION AND A DEGREE

Credit for ROTC

1. Your military experience may serve as total credit for the first two or three years of Army ROTC.
2. You may be exempt from the Basic Summer Camp.

Subsistence

1. All cadets receive $100 per month up to 10 months per year during their last two years.
2. Receive half the pay of a Second Lieutenant during the six-week summer camp. (Approximately $450.00)

Scholarships

1. You may be eligible for an ROTC SCHOLARSHIP during your last one or two years of college.
2. Scholarships pay all tuition, fees, and books, plus $100.00 a month tax free!

Job Opportunities

1. Active Duty Guaranteed
2. Your option of active duty or 3-6 months' active duty for training.

*NOTE Returned Missionaries!!! Foreign Area Specialist Program Available to U.S. Army Officers.

G.I. Benefits

1. You may continue to draw G.I. Bill Benefits even though you are receiving the $100.00 per month.

Pay and Allowances

(Active Duty with dependents)

1. Second Lieutenant (over 3) $11,350.00 per year (approximately)
2. Medical and Dental Benefits
3. 30 days' paid vacation yearly
4. Opportunities available for graduate schooling

For Information Call Capt. Miles at Dept. of Military Science, 374-1211, Ext. 3603 or Just Come Over to 320 Wells ROTC Building

Answers by phone

Tele-Tip II underway

DORNA NEILSON

Associate Staff Writer

Over two hundred My friend is talking suicide what should I person who threaten should not be taken.

This question and others are now being Tele-Tip which has been since November

1973, is sponsored by the Student Life Services Office. Ray Alvord, director of Student Life, said that the Tele-Tip was "an idea whose time had come."

The idea behind Tele-Tip accredits to Alvord, is to help students with specific problems in such a way that the students will not be required to disclose their own identities. He noted that many students hesitate to obtain the counseling they need. "People who tend to have difficulties are generally the most reluctant to seek out assistance."

Tele-Tip number is an off-campus one (377-1625) which allows the student to obtain a direct line to the Tele-Tip services located in the library, without going through BYU Office.

Additional tapes were added in January to the Tele-Tip collection, with many of them student recommendations, said Alvord. The tapes cover a broad spectrum of subjects such as personal questions, "the crime scene," medical problems and international student concerns.

All that is required of the student is to dial the Tele-Tip number and give the number of the tape desired to the Tele-Tip operator who answers. Each tape is thirty-five minutes long and each gives information on not only what is contained in the question but also other references to go to for more information on the problem.

The average response to the Tele-Tip is 70 to 80 calls monthly. About half the community of BYU houses 25,000 students, Alvord noted that not every student has a problem but some of those having them are apparently seeking answers to their questions in the Tele-Tip services.

Answers on the tapes were written by that person who handles that problem in the BYU community such as deans and counselors, Alvord said.

He noted that the majority of tapes requested concern personal questions.

Statistics since the beginning of the year show that 47 percent of Tele-Tip requests have been for personal questions; 32 percent for health questions; 9 percent for administrative inquiries; 5 percent concerning the honor code; 3 percent for the international student; 1 percent for "Crime Scene."

The major problem that faces Tele-Tip is making the students aware of the services. Lists of the Tele-Tip tape can be obtained from the Information desk in the Wilkinson Center, Academics Standards Office, College Advisement Centers and Library Resource Center. Alvord said that many students had obtained the lists in quantity from the Academics office to pass out to Branch and club members.

Vets advised to get benefits

The Veterans Administration advised veterans not to allow loss of a birth certificate or marriage license to deter them from applying for benefits.

According to Elmer J. Simons, an October 1 regulation allows less formal proof of marriage and birth for claiming higher benefits. Under the 1971 regulation, a veteran's or widow's certified statement of marriage is sufficient on applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children provided neither he nor his wife has been married before and the VA has no contradictory information on file.

Certified statements are also sufficient "as evidence regarding birth of a child or a man's marriage as proof of age and relationship in disability cases and in death cases where a claimant's statements corroborate those of a veteran in connection with a claim for any VA benefit."

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

High schools and other universities are interested in the Tele-Tip project and requesting services and ideas from the BYU Tele-Tip in order to establish similar services of their own, said Alvord.

The cost of the Tele-Tip to BYU is $17 a month—the cost of the telephone line. The system was established using the services available which explained for the minimal charges for it now.

Alvord noted that proposals or ideas concerning the Tele-Tip effectiveness are welcome.

The average response to the tapes requested concern personal questions.

Statistics since the beginning of the year show that 47 percent of Tele-Tip requests have been for personal questions; 32 percent for health questions; 9 percent for administrative inquiries; 5 percent concerning the honor code; 3 percent for the international student; 1 percent for "Crime Scene."

The major problem that faces Tele-Tip is making the students aware of the services. Lists of the Tele-Tip tape can be obtained from the Information desk in the Wilkinson Center, Academics Standards Office, College Advisement Centers and Library Resource Center. Alvord said that many students had obtained the lists in quantity from the Academics office to pass out to Branch and club members.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery Inc. of Chicago, which has branches in 100 cities in the U.S. and Canada according to Dr. Harold Lee Snow, Medical Education Consultant for BYU and organizer of Recovery Inc. in this area.

The system of self-help was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, Director of the Psychiatric Institute of the University of Illinois Medical School, author of the book "Mental Health Through Will Training" said Dr. Snow.

In the meeting Saturday approximately 15 members discussed the program from Dr. Low's book for a half hour.

They also decided to hold weekly meetings in the Provo Library at 12 noon and invite the public.

Dr. Snow explained that members of the group are encouraged to tell feelings of depression, anxiety and hostility.

Recovery method is a duplicate of the Bishop Stake Welfare System Groups presently on a trial basis under church approval in five LDS Stakes in Northern Calif. There are presently 8-10 groups in Northern Calif.

The Self Help Groups were organized by LDS Social Workers. They use Dr. Low's methods.

Two new classes offered in history

A new course on the history of Black Africa and one on researching and writing historical narratives are being offered in the history department this summer term.

The course will be taught by Dr. G. Wesley Johnson, a visiting professor from University of California, Santa Barbara. "The Lost Kingdoms of Africa" is the title chosen for History 500R, Section 3. This new class will emphasize the political, cultural and social achievement of the black people in traditional Africa before the arrival of the white Europeans.

According to Delmont Oswald, coordinator of the Social Science Advisement Center, this information is relevant for understanding the history of black people in the United States before they came to North America.

Also, an artist's conception of cultural experience will be treated by the wife of the instructor, Miss Marian Ashby Johnson, who is a specialist on African cultural life.

History 500-R, Section 2, is called "In Search of Family History." This course, according to Oswald, assumes family members are known and focuses on the same information from written, oral and visual sources.

Students will also learn how to set up a Family Records Center in the home.

Dr. Johnson was chairman of the Afro-American Studies Committee which started Stanford University's Black Studies program, one of the first in the country.

Recovery Inc. is part of Recovery

Entertainment

The Daily Universe

Ballroom dancing gains in popularity

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Rock 'n' roll may not exactly pass as a surprising sport, but college students here are finding definite advantages to the cheek-to-cheek steps of an earlier era.

"It's a gas," said Doug Morgan, a senior at a Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "I definitely think there will be an upswing in ballroom dancing at colleges and high schools."

MIT officials had expected

TV airs story of Indians

A documentary on the Maya civilization, contemporary and ancient, will be seen on channel 11 Thursday at 10 p.m.

"Mystery of the Maya," is narrated by Mexican-born actor Ricardo Montalban. The "mystery" concerns the sudden fall of the great ancient civilization which had its golden age from 300 to 900 A.D. Through the program, artifacts and customs of Maya life—past and present—are pictured and discussed.

The program highlights the re-discovery of Temple "B," a 1,000-year-old Mayan well-preserved example of classical Mayan architecture, located in the jungles of the Yucatan Peninsula. The temple was first discovered in 1912 by a team of archeologists. Subsequent explorers, however, were unable to find the temple until May, 1973, when it was re-discovered by Hugh and Suzanne Johnston and a small group of explorers during the filming of this documentary.

maybe 20 to 30 students to sign up for the midsemester social dancing class. They were surprised when 109 registered.

Religious trends set in America

NEW YORK (AP) — American religious life in the past year has gone through four phases: a time of growth, a time of action, a time of turmoil, a time of disenchantment.

Now it may be entering a new stage—a time of reflection, of examining and clarifying its basic convictions.

At least, that is the forecast of several professional churchmen as they analyze trends expected to show up in religion in 1974.

"It is ripe for a theological renaissance," says the Rev. Dr. William Hordern, president of Lutheran Seminary of Saskatoon, Canada.

In a roundup of views in the ecumenical weekly, the Rev. Charles P. Horrocks Jr., a Noroton, Conn., Presbyterian pastor, also foresees "the beginning of a theological awakening in America."

Concert slates bluegrass band

The Take Ten concert Thursday will feature the Sawtooth Ranger Band, a bluegrass group, according to John Elton, vice president of culture.

The performance will be at 10 a.m. in the Memorial Lounge, ELWC. There is no admission charge.

Y graduate wins award in festival

A BYU graduate in theatre has been selected as a National Winner in the American College Festival, it was announced last week.

Lane Bateman, who graduated from BYU in 1967 with a Masters Degree in the theatre, is the second to compete for his doctorate at Southern Illinois University.

Batemans winning play, "Living in State," is being performed at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. on April 18. The play was one of more than 280 plays entered in the American College Festival and one of ten selected to play in the Kennedy Center. The play is also one of Bateman's dissertation plays.

Batemans has also received other awards for his work.

Opening the evening with the national anthems of both Taiwan and the United States, the group sang "Our Island Beautiful" and several Taiwanese folk songs.

The second category

consisted of instrumental numbers presented by three

By HIAGI M. WESLEY
University Staff Writer

Last Saturday's show presented by the members of the Chinese Youth Goodwill Mission from the Republic of China, Taiwan, was more than just entertainment.

It was a show rich in culture and color as was witnessed by the crowd in the Memorial Lounge of the Wilkinson Center, Saturday night.

The group, comprising of ten college students from different universities from Taiwan, Taiwan, included songs, dances, kungfu demonstrations and a fashion show of ancient costumes and hardos used in different eras.

During the group tour was Shih-Jiun Chang, a professor of psychology from one of the universities in Taiwan. Dr. Cheng received his doctorate degree in the United States.

The Deputy-Director for the group was Chun-Shyong Chang, a teacher of banking and financing at Chenchu University in Taipei.

Opening the evening with the national anthems of both Taiwan and the United States, the group sang "Our Island Beautiful" and several Taiwanese folk songs.

The second category consisted of instrumental numbers presented by three

The Chinese Youth Goodwill Mission performed Saturday night in the ELWC.

members of the group. They performed three numbers: "Spring Dance," "Moonlight Trust" (a Mongolian melody) and "Joy on the Grassland."

Members of the group also performed several dances.

Miss Lung-Lan Chen presented a dance about the old folks taking care of the young. She impersonated a young girl riding on the back of her grandmother.

Demonstrating several techniques in the art of kungfu (self-defense) was Duan Lin, a physical education major. Mr. Lin also used a 8 feet chopper for one of his demonstrations. He said that kungfu originated from the time of the Ching Dynasty.

Continuing, Lin said that kungfu is the art of learning to learn to control internally. He said he had learned the art of self-defense from his family who have been practicing it throughout the ages.

A rare presentation of the evening was the opera singing by Miss Yuh-Ming Liang a student of journalism. The crowd cheered and asked for more after the end of Miss Liang's performance. She responded with two more numbers.

Colorful and interesting was the fashion parade about the different costumes used during the different eras.

Dresses shown were from the Chou Dynasty (1127-771 B.C.), Ch'u-Chiu Period and the Era of the Warring States (770-222 B.C.); Chin & Han Dynasties (206 B.C. & 220-265 A.D.); Wei, Shu & Wu Dynasties (559-617 A.D.); Sung Dynasty (960-1279 A.D.); Ch'ing Dynasty (1645-1911 A.D.) and the Republic of China between 1911 and 1932.

Besides the different types of dresses, the costumes include beads, jewelry, flowers and different styles of hairdos.

The group ended its performance including the audience with a dance of the mountain people.

One thing the members of the group expressed was the

Don't blame wheat

DE DES MOINES (AP) — The editor of one of the nation's leading farm publications says that wheat prices shouldn't be blamed for the rising price of bread.

Al Bull, writing in Wallace's Farmer, says, "Wheat in a loaf of bread today is less than one pound. So even if wheat, which no miller has had to pay yet, amounts to only eight cents per loaf, friendliness of the people in the United States.

Although they were exhausted and tired from their long tour, they were full of smiles as they presented their cultural show.

The emcees for the evening's performance was Lucy Huang, a sister of the Huang sisters who are performers in the Program Bureau.

The group left Sunday for their next performance in Denver, Colo. The second group of students from Taiwan are performing in the eastern

Wednesday, April 3,

ATTACHE CASES

(except Samsonite)

20% off

62 E. Center, Provo

Ph. 373-2430

TONIGHT TV

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3

2 7:00 POLICE SURGEON "Killing Fever." A pro-hockey player finds himself in trouble with his mob for refusing to kill.

7:30 CLEROW WILSON'S GREAT ESCAPE. Animated spot about the life of Cleow Wilson, the man who escaped from Alcatraz.

7:30 THE CHINESE. Story of the conflicts within the Chinese community.

9:00 NBC NEWS SPECIAL EDITION. concern the internal strife of South Africa and the scientists who believe no work to be done.

4 7:00 The Cowboys. Wednesday Movie of the Week, "The Gun and the Pulpit." Starring Steve McQueen.

9:00 Doc Elliott.

10:00 Mod Squad.

11:00 News 4 Nightshift with Allan Mall, Dave Blackwell, and Al Hartman.

11:30 ABC Wide World of Entertainment, "Geraldine Rivier Goodnight America!"

5 6:30 The Price Is Right (Color).

7:00 Wednesday Night Theater (Color). "Caprice" (Color).

7:30 The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "Murder by Numbers" (Color).

10:00 Channel 5 Evening News (Color).

10:40 Mission: Impossible (Color). "Nicolette" (Color).

11:40 Suspense Theater (Color). "Jungle of Fear" (Color).

11 6:30 Kids' News. Producers of tonight's news are the sixth-grade students of Shelleys School in Chevy Chase.

7:00 Zoom.

7:30 The Price Is Right. "Preparing the Home Garden."

8:00 NOVA. "The Last of the Celts." A story about the last hundred or so almost extinct tribe of South American Indians who still live in the Andes and are wondering about the values we hold.

9:00 LDS CHURCH CONFERENCE—PRIMARY—Opening session.

11:00 Nine to Grow No. 4, "Labor and Delivery." (Time approximate. Follows Conference.)

LOST & FOUND

SALE

APRIL 13, 1974

11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

MAIN BALLROOM

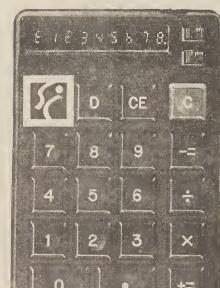

BEEN WAITING ?

FOR THE RIGHT DEAL ON A CALCULATOR

WAIT NO LONGER -- IT'S HERE

MANUFACTURED LOCALLY
SERVICED LOCALLY

SUMMIT

Now $49.95
SOLD FOR $89.95

- Built-in NiCad Batteries provide 10 hours of continuous use and recharge in 3 hours.
- Only 8 ounces—2 3/4" x 4" x 1"
- Bright 8 digit readout with 16 digit floating decimal and calculating capacity.
- Constants in multiplication and division
- AC/DC adapter/charger included
- Deluxe padded carrying case for maximum protection.
- One year guarantee by Summit in Salt Lake City.

SUPPLIES MAY BE LIMITED GET YOURS TODAY! GET ONE FOR GRADUATION, BIRTHDAYS, ETC.
AT THIS SPECIAL PRICE.

S SCHREYER'S
INCORPORATED BUSINESS MACHINES SUPPLIES
UNIVERSITY MALL 224-0960

According to a survey published in the Daily Universe Feb. 16, 1972, "The Lowest Prices and Probably the Best Pizza is at the Rusty Nail. *The Rusty Nail has atmosphere dripping from the walls." Visit the

Rusty Nail
We Cater to Parties:
- Seating up to 80 people
- Delivery
*North: 1445 N. Canyon Rd. *East: 742 East 820 North 377-4555 374-6221
For Deliveries, Call 374-6221

ALL BANK CARDS ACCEPTED

ACTUAL SIZE

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 . / . %

0 . + - ×

CE

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 . / . %

0 . + - ×

CE

Sports

The Daily Universe

Utah Stars team sold, stocks to become public

LARRY MOES
Associated Press Writer

ALICE CITY (AP) — The Utah Stars, a basketball team which it will be sold Monday by President Keith J. Lee, Vice President Lyle Salt Lake City Mayor Jake" Gam, Utah Warren Pugh Miller, assistant to in Rampton, all of whom expressed strong desire to keep the stars in Utah.

Owns also Solitude.

Weston owns Solitude ski resort outside Salt Lake City. Utah Lines Co., a motor home manufacturer and recreational land interests.

Neither Daniels nor the new owners would disclose the purchase price. Daniels said the deal, which firms will not be closed until Aug. 1, Howick also said the transaction is firm and does not depend on sale of Stars stock to the public—ever though that is the goal.

Daniels said the transaction signed Monday included a substantial down payment which is not being held in escrow "but is money I can spend." He said the sale included 100 per cent of the Stars stock, including that of Stars President Vince Boryla who said he would remain with the Stars organization.

Increased cost.

Daniels gave the reason for his sale involves increased costs of operation. "There's a trend in professional sports to public ownership. It's just getting too expensive for one club to do it alone," he said.

Daniels said the new owners would disclose the purchase price. Daniels said the deal, which firms will not be closed until Aug. 1, Howick also said the transaction is firm and does not depend on sale of Stars stock to the public—ever though that is the goal.

Daniels and Howick said the application for government permission to offer Utah Stars stock to the public will be submitted Tuesday. They said it will be up to government securities agencies when the stock could begin.

Howick said "a public document," to be released later, would disclose the purchase price and offer Utah citizens "a piece of the Stars."

Same management.

"We have no intention of changing the management. They've done a good job. Why would we want to change a winning team?" Howick said.

The Stars are currently involved in the NBA playoffs, having won the regular season western division championship.

Daniels and Howick said the purchase price was substantial. Howick said Weston was interested in the deal because "the price was great."

Weston's

stocks and writings of

Hilary Joseph F. Smith

is well known volume constitutes a compendium of the doctrines and teachings of the Church. It contains practically essential doctrine of the Latter-day its concerning the present life and the

to come.

Published at $4.95 Sale price 2.95

ANSWERS TO GOSPEL QUESTIONS

James 1-5

President Joseph Fielding Smith

These answers provide definitive answers to some of the perplexities of our lives. From the membership of the Church we come questions relative to the use of the Godhead, the Priesthood, sacrifice, translated Beings, and many, more. Two hundred and fifty-six answers, answered by President

Smith in this five volume set.

Published at $2.50 each

Sale price 1.95 each

SEPH FIELDING SMITH

Prophet Among the People

J. M. Heslop and D. Van Orden

This book brings to the reader an inside look at the life and the highlights of the Prophet and the people

published at $3.95 Sale price 1.50

DEE LIFE OF SEPH FIELDING SMITH

Joseph Fielding Smith, Jr.

and John J. Stewart

This complete biography impacts intimate glimpses into the life of this great man.

Published at $4.95 Sale price 2.95

LEADERSHIP AND HUMAN RELATIONS

By Robert J. Matthews

Impress human relations is one of the world's vital needs today. The author stresses personal preparation in leadership development aimed at maintaining political, religious and social freedoms.

Published at $4.95 Sale price 2.95

EARLY AMERICA AND THE BOOK OF MORMON

A Photograph Essay of Ancient America by Paul R. Cheesman

This book volume contains colorful pictures and a vivid word descriptions of some of the more outstanding ruins located in Central and South America.

Published at $6.95 Sale price 3.95

INDEX AND CONCORDANCE TO TEACHINGS OF THE PROPHET JOSEPH SMITH

By Robert J. Matthews

A complete index and concordance to this fascinating book compiled by President Joseph Fielding Smith

Published at $1.00 Sale price 50

A DEFENSE AND A REFUGE

Priesthood Correlation

and the Establishment of Zion

by Dale Mourton

This pamphlet discusses what is Zion,

Zion and the Gospel, Correlation and Welfare. Prophetic Significance of Priesthood Correlation and many other subjects related to the establishment of a priesthood operated Zion.

Published at $1.95 Sale price 1.00

THE PEARL OF GREAT PRICE

Lectures on the Pearl of Great Price

by Roy W. Doey

These two paperback volumes contain the lectures on the Pearl of Great Price given during Education Week, 1970 through 1972. They will be of interest to students of the scriptures, teachers, and classes.

Published at $2.25 each

Sale price 95 each

THE PARABLES OF JESUS

by Robert J. Matthews

This is a discussion of the parables taught by Jesus as recorded in the New Testament. It is an aid in helping those interested in living Christ-like lives make application of the teachings of Jesus in their lives.

Published at $1.50 Sale price .75

Quantity limited on some titles

Deseret Book, Box 659, Salt Lake City, Utah 84110

Please send me the books selected by number. I include 35c per book postage and handling. Utah residents also add 4 1/2% sales tax.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY, STATE, ZIP _____

Pecar breaks record in meet

By PIRET REILJAN
University Staff Writer

BYU's graduating senior from Yugoslavia, Zdravko Pecar, broke his former school record with a discus throw of 199 ft. 3 in. in last Saturday's invitational meet at Cougar stadium.

Pecar bettered his previous record of 197 feet. Cougar freshman 18-year-old Kenth Gardenknecht also had an excellent throw of 187 - 10 1/4 to place second.

The meet was attended by athletes from BYU, Utah State, University of Idaho, Stanford, and several others. Cloudy and intermittent showers did not deter the athletes from performing well. In the 440-yard dash, BYU's junior miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a 44.8-second mile.

BU's quarter miler from Sweden, Lars Stenbeck, recorded a

BYU Ruggers win 10-6

After a week of inactivity, the BYU First XV returned to action and faced the vastly improved Dead Goat Rugby Club, and came out on top Saturday in a very physical match, 10-6.

A number of former University of Utah football players and other players beseiged the Dead Goat team to no avail, pointing to outweighting BYU by 10 pounds per man. The Goats were also two-three inches taller per man than the BYU team.

But BYU's defense rose to the occasion and faced the vastly improved Dead Goat Rugby Club, and came out on top Saturday in a very physical match, 10-6.

Applications for the annual Daily Universe Three-Man Bass Ball Tournament are now being taken every weekday in the Universe office, 538 ELWC from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The deadline for the entries has been set at Wednesday April 19.

The tournament will feature three man teams in three different divisions and will be held April 19 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the Richards Building, rooms 156, 146, and 144.

The tournament is open to all students, faculty, staff and anyone else who would like to test their ability against all the teams that enter; everyone, regardless of size or sex has a good chance to take the top. Divisions have been divided manhandled the Salt Lake Rugby Club by a score of 48-0.

The Ruggers take to the road to play Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs on Thursday.

Applications being taken for Universe tournament

Applications for the annual Daily Universe Three-Man Bass Ball Tournament are now being taken every weekday in the Universe office, 538 ELWC from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The deadline for the entries has been set at Wednesday April 19.

The tournament will feature three man teams in three different divisions and will be held April 19 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the Richards Building, rooms 156, 146, and 144.

The tournament is open to all students, faculty, staff and anyone else who would like to test their ability against all the teams that enter; everyone, regardless of size or sex has a good chance to take the top. Divisions have been divided to give all contenders a fair chance to compete there is the first, and most important, of these talented and young short basketball players. Then for the rest of the year will be the unlimited division.

"We anticipate the under-18s will be the category to be the most popular last year, so I hope those interested will sign up as soon as possible," Deanne Naegle, tournament director said.

The $100.00 worth of trophies will be given to winners of each division. First and second place trophies to the top two teams in each division. Also a Most Valuable Player trophy will be given to the top contestant in all three categories.

To give added interest and challenge to the teams, the tournament will be played on A-B-A-B rules. This will include the same point shot and legal dunking.

"We anticipate the under-18s will be the category to be the most popular last year, so I hope those interested will sign up as soon as possible," Deanne Naegle, tournament director said.

The $100.00 entrance fee is payable when making application. The money made from entrance fees and expenses will be given to the Harold B. Lee Library Fund. Teams may chose to get sponsor for the tournament to help with entrance fee.

Teams to meet in chess games

College chess teams from the Western U.S. will converge at BYU on April 4-6 for a five-round Swiss system chess tournament. All BYU students are invited to play in 349 U.S. college teams. As usual, it will be a rated tournament membership in the U.S. Chess Federation is required of all players. One may become a member by paying one year's dues ($5.00) plus a $1.00 (20 and up) at the door. All BYU players may attend this annual event. For further details call David Sewell 375-3198 or Larry Willes 375-3092.

"It felt like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula. "It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

"I don't know," he said. "I just feel like I'm losing my job."

"I feel like a death in the family," concurred fan Dorothy Shula, wife of Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula, after the televised announcement of the defection of Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League.

"It's kind of sad around the house tonight. I guess I felt like wearing an armband or something."

Floyd Csonka, wide receiver and running back Kicker are key components in the Dolphins' offense which led the club to three straight Super Bowl games and victories in the last two.

The fans were divided between bitterness and

understanding of the financial gain the trio's move Sunday to the NFL's Northmen. But they all agreed the team would not be the same without the $3 million take effect in 1975.

The team without Csonka, Kicker and Floyd is not the Miami Dolphins anymore," said Yolanda Gabby, 23.

"They ain't got anybody now," said Hutchins, 19. "The Dolphins used to mean more to us." "Those dirty rats . . . that's gratitude," could they ever do that?"

Samuel Nastasi, a bus driver who attended fans to games was asked,

"Do you feel like you're losing your job?"

The Daily Universe

OPINION—COMMENT

Brigham Young University

Changing apathy, not an easy task

"Student government, as far as students are concerned, is three things: basketball tickets, an occasional concert and dance, and a good lecture. They don't care who is organizing it as long as it gets done," Randy Smith, executive assistant to ASBYU president Mark Reynolds, remarked last semester.

The majority of students at BYU may have that attitude but it is not necessarily wrong. After all, our main purpose in being here is to spend time gaining an education. Not all of the students on this campus can afford to spend the long hours needed in organizing student activities. And yet they enjoy participating and would miss them greatly if they were no longer offered.

Just because student government officers do not have the power to eliminate dress standards or fire professors does not mean student government as a whole is insignificant.

Students queried in a poll last semester said they felt there was plenty of opportunity to take part in planning activities but not in government decision-making. Any student who has spent even a few hours on the fourth floor of the Wilkinson Center knows that many decisions are made by students in deciding the best way to serve the student body.

Student officers realize the demand put on students with study and church obligations and they are willing to serve the students in exchange for the payment of their tuition and a small monthly stipend.

It is a reasonable exchange. Students get ball game tickets, concerts, lectures and art exhibits and still have time for their studies. It is not a matter of being apathetic—it is only a matter of enjoying what seems an acceptable system.

But under such a system apathy does manage to creep in. The student with an unusual idea for a lecture series or a social activity does not usually bother to go and share it with an ASBYU officer. Despite reports of the student body officers living "up there" and never coming down, are not all full time students, excited with the possibilities ASBYU affords students anxious for people to furnish them with specific ideas and programs.

They certainly are not hurting for ideas. All of the officers have been busy this year and many students have been influenced by them. But if a student feels that something has been lacking, he should talk to the officer in charge of initiating such programs.

The officers are working for the student and they have an obligation to listen to suggestions. If you have not given them a chance to listen, then you have no cause to complain. If you have tried, then you know how cooperative the students on the fourth floor are and how beneficial student government can be.

Reid Robison, vice president of academics and ASBYU president-elect for 1974-75 emphasized, "There is room for any student who wants to get involved. We have considered every suggestion, idea and program that has ever come from the students."

If you have time to get involved—they need you. If you don't—they need your ideas now.

Letters to the Editor

Scripture chasing

Editor:

Having spent two years at BYU, I am beginning to question the ability of the average Y student to carry on an academic tradition.

When debating non-religious subjects, a favorite tactic seems to be that of pointlessly reciting passages of scripture (which are quite often out of context) to support a weak argument. Other students are fond of quoting church leaders, even though the statements may be decades old and apply to a completely different set of conditions than those confronting us today. The opponent is then expected to nod his head in solemn agreement and beg his adversary's pardon for having such a rattling collection of quotations.

These tactics are particularly irritating for two reasons: (1) They indicate a self-righteous piety totally foreign to the spirit of the gospel. (2) They quite often turn the discussion into an alteration by indirectly calling into question the morality of the opponent.

The Lord has given us statements from ancient and modern prophets to guide us in our daily living. But I doubt he meant them to serve as substitutes for logic.

Scott Lloyd
Sandy, Utah

Pickles, lemons

Editor:

Paul H. Dunn, a president of the seventy, to the saints which were assembled at Brigham Young University, and to the faithful in Christ.

2. "Mmm... it worries me. Some Latter-day Saints look like they were weaned on dill pickles and lemons."

3. "You and I ought to bounce through life."

We are greatly saddened by the apathy for one another being expressed by many of the students on the campus; that fewer are smiling as they walk about the campus.

5. An admonition: Cast not your eyes to the ground or unto some off place, but instead greet one another with a smile that the burden of your neighbor may be lightened.

6. Do you think that the scripture said in vain, "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ?"

7. Think about it.

Stephen C. Lewis
Van Nuys, Calif.

Backwardness

Editor:

On Wednesday, March 27, a coed at BYU made the mistake of showing that she is ambitious. With her high school experience as yell-leader and cheerleader, she decided to become the first girl in BYU history to try for the position of yell-leader. She, along with about 15 other girls, had been invited to attend basketball games, had noticed a definite lack of crowd involvement. This girl decided that she should be the one to do something about it. She worked out, she learned cheers, and she practiced for several hours every day.

She knew there would be opposition, since having a female yell-leader at BYU is unheard of. One particular source of opposition that she was aware of was out of 1973-74 Athletics Vice Presidents.

At the tryouts, instead of the prescribed fifteen judges, there were only six. No faculty members were on the judging panel as it had been stipulated there would be. This girl, after making it as one of the six finalists, was told she had been eliminated. One of the judges went so far as to tell her if she had been a male, her enthusiasm would have easily won the position for her.

Please don't get the impression that we are racist. When I asked Dr. Lambert, how we are outraged that at BYU we are removing the vestiges of the past. When a girl tries to "change the system" by working within it, she is not allowed to do so because of discrimination against her sex.

We are, for the most part, avid basketball fans, but we are terribly apprehensive about the quality of next year's yell-leaders. Why must the whole student body suffer from a lack of talent and enthusiasm because of the bigoted backwardness and narrowmindedness of a few.

Kathy Kettner
Bryan, TexasAnita Vaughan
Schenectady, New YorkJane Ann Boss
Las Vegas, NevadaLeeAnn Woolley
Pebble Beach, California

A failure

Editor:

I'd like to say a word in favor of the Daily Universe. For students like me it was a worthwhile experience to be on a laboratory newspaper. When one is starting out fresh and learning any profession, mistakes will be made. You'll never be proficient unless you have that privilege. You learn a lot from them. The mistakes is when the blame is pushed off on someone who may be innocent because we are unable to admit our mistakes.

Parents make mistakes because they are imperfect people. Even machines can make mistakes because they are run by people. So we should have a good attitude toward admitting and correcting them. Instead of engrossing ourselves in too much pride. Whether you are the reporter, editor, printer or reader.

Those who are on the receiving line of a mistake lose their self-respect. What a price to pay. When we lose our perspective of ourselves we've lost everything. To say that we are a failure is to say, "Lord, you've created a failure."

Jill Killin
Los Angeles, Calif.

The most critical

Editor:

We have a phenomenon here at Brigham Young University. Nearly every time one of our papers or drama critics dares criticise a dramatic performance, "Letters to the Editor" is swamped with letters criticising the criticism. "Giraffe Story" is, of course, the most recent example.

As a former staff writer for the Daily Universe, I am somewhat acquainted with the staffing procedures. A sincere attempt is made to put applicants for the paper staff in an area where they are most qualified. Unfortunately, most applicants seem to come from the journalistic aspirants. Hmmmit, isn't that strange?

Difficulty arises when the staff selects no engineers to cover the engineering college, musicians to cover their phase of fine arts, etc. Oddly again, the drama students seems to be most verbally critical of the lack of expertise in their field.

May I suggest to these critics that these critics put their time where their words flow? That applies to the Daily Universe staff. Applications are now being taken for fall. Writers received a dollar a day wage when I worked there. I doubt it has raised much since 1970, but it's certainly worth looking into, don't you think?

Kris Peters
Salt Lake City

(Editor's note: Universe staffers do not, indeed, make a dollar a day anymore, but Kris Peters is correct, we can accept students who want to write for the Universe if they have some expertise such as drama.)

Hang in there 12 more days

By ISABEL FLEISHER
University Asst. Editorial Page Editor

Stanley Student has three term papers due within the next week. He plans to begin work on them any day now.

Kathy Kougar sits and stares at the three-week pile-up of dirty laundry which sits in the corner of her bedroom. She promises herself that she will take the laundromat first thing in the morning.

Mark Matulakowski received a long distance call from his mother last night. "Son, you have not written to us in over a month," relates Mom. "Are you OK?"

Cindy Coed failed to attend her biology class for the past four weeks. She realizes her predicament; but for some unknown reason, does not seem to care.

These descriptive examples are all indicative of the springtime blues.

Winter semester contains certain elements which lend themselves to a general feeling of uneasiness at this point in time. The winter months are a time of stress for both students and students—especially the shift into summer. During the entire winter semester, BYU's calendar is void of any holidays; thus, no extended weekends which might have allowed for a diversion from the usual school-oriented activities.

Skiing the slopes, building snowmen or nestling beside a crackling fireplace were looked upon with pleasant anticipation last fall. But now, they seem dismulating and a release from rather melancholy, to lag, to pensive days.

Springtime blues require a high level of self-motivation in order to overcome their destroying capabilities. Some students possess a natural inclination towards such self-motivation, while others must work hard to achieve it. For those who are not naturally endowed, some helpful suggestions are offered.

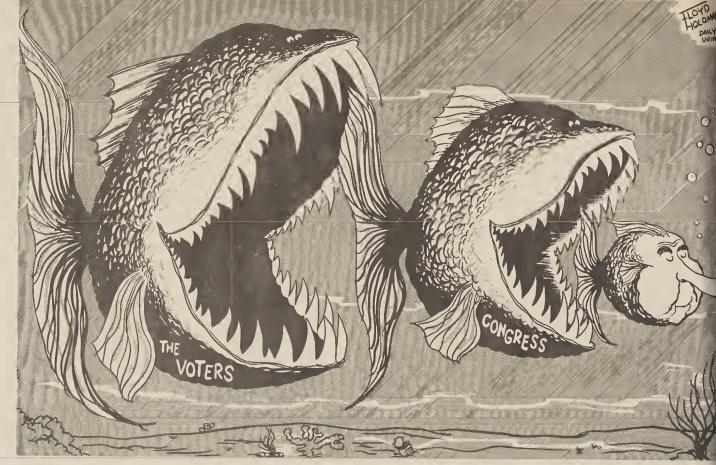

First of all, find a partner, one who shares a similar response to the end of the winter semester. Whether it be a girlfriend, boyfriend, roommate or a close friend, it is important that you be anxious to speak with all semester, approach the other party. Suggest that the two of you embark on some new adventure together.

Next, plan a schedule and stick to it. Dutifully promise yourself that on Saturday morning you will attend to the laundry, on Saturday afternoon you will visit the library and complete the research necessary for that term paper, and Monday afternoon you will carry out your chores. Set aside time for your schedule realistic, one which will be tolerable to you. Except for dire emergencies, do not deviate from the goals you have established.

Finally, simply keep reminding yourself: "Hang in there, baby." Only a few more weeks remain in this semester, so don't abandon ship now.

Yes, it has been a long, hard winter. But bear in mind—it will be a short, easy summer.

The Daily Universe

Experimental first

Finals week abandoned

By DOUG FELLOW
University Staff Writer

For 70 years BYU students have gone through the traditional trauma known as finals week. But beginning with this semester, there will be no more finals week. Instead, classes will continue over the last week of school allowing the faculty the option of giving finals, continue instruction or collect final projects and papers depending on what method best serves its students.

First signs of discomfort with the traditional finals week were acknowledged by the administration over a year ago. At that time it was admitted that the then current final system represented a complex scheduling maneuver which posed a sizeable number of conflicts in student schedules, according to L. Robert L. Webb, Administrative assistant to Robert L. Thomas, Vice president of academics.

At the close of the 1972 fall semester the administration conducted an informal poll which showed 70 per cent of the faculty were not following the finals schedule, says Webb.

Because of the varying nature of the multitude of courses taught over two thirds of the faculty were using the period allotted for finals to collect term papers, review projects, receive tests and return to the office to report, show films and in a number of cases nothing was done at all, according to Webb.

As a result of the 1972 poll Dr. Thomas requested in a general faculty meeting that faculty members make use of the finals schedule and return a report to the academics office after finals, stating whether or not they conducted final exams. 63 per cent reported giving finals during the allotted period.

At this point the administration seriously began to wonder if the traditional final exam week was serving the university well, relates Webb. "Two experiments were then implemented."

First, final exams for classes carrying credit of one hour or less were scheduled during the last class period at the close of winter semester 1973. Classes that were not easily adapted to a regular period of time were permitted to test during the regular period.

Summer experiment was a "considerable waste of money and man hours and an invaluable loss of in-class time, amounting to 1/16 of a semester."

Motives of courses

At the close of the 1972 fall semester the administration conducted an informal poll which showed 70 per cent of the faculty were not following the finals schedule, says Webb.

In addition, 19 per cent of classes preferred to have no final exam required.

The survey was submitted to the Faculty Advisory Council and to the Deans Directors Council for their recommendations according to Pres. Oaks.

gives the exam during any class or lab period the final week.

In addition, 19 per cent of classes preferred to have no final exam required.

The survey was submitted to the Faculty Advisory Council and to the Deans Directors Council for their recommendations according to Pres. Oaks.

Councils split in recommendations.

The Faculty Advisory Council, chaired by Dr. Neal Lambert, recommended continuation of the traditional examination schedule subject to two changes: discontinuation separate departmental examinations as possible and requirement that faculty members give no final examination during the regularly scheduled period of approval from their department chairman.

"What we were looking for in the Council was a system to accommodate everyone as little disruption as possible," Lambert said.

"But almost one-third of the classes wanted to continue the present system we felt that was too big a group to ignore."

"We didn't feel bound by the preference survey," Lambert said.

The Deans and Directors Council, chaired by Dr. Robert L. Thomas, voted 112 to extend classes and through the examination period and hold examination during any regular class period of that week.

Served more

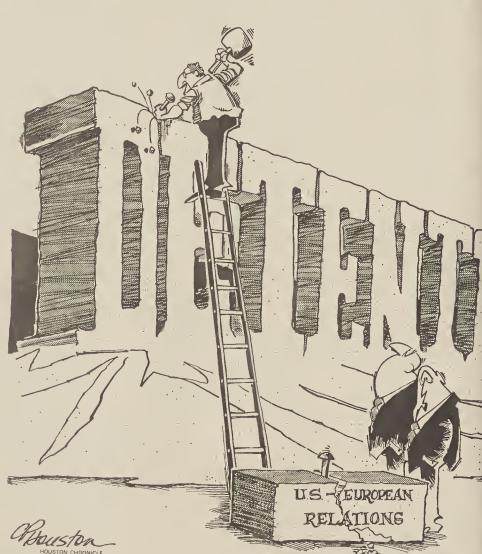

"The majority opinion of the Deans Council was that this new arrangement served the people in the best manner," said Webb.

He also said that compulsory attendance classes would be a "matter best left between student and instructor."

On Oct. 18 Pres. Oaks announced the system would be implemented beginning winter semester 1974.

"Pres. Oaks did not say not to have final exams," Webb said. "Student and faculty expected to stay through April 18."

"Basically, the change resulted from realization by the administration that individual faculty members in consultation with the department chairman, is the power to decide what is necessary to evaluate students," Webb sums up.

"I guess he's like anyone else—some days he's hot, some day he ain't."